Item 1. Object

The Department of Economics opens the call, by qualifications and interviews, for n. 1 departmental fellowship lasting 1 year and for a gross amount of € 19.367,00.

Title of the research: The socio-economic impact of COVID-19 in Italy: micro-macro analysis and policy proposals based on the integration of E3ME and EUROMOD.

Research Project: The project aims at assessing the impact of the economic shutdown on household incomes and the potential role of policy responses in both mid- and long term. The pandemic effects will be modelled at micro-macro level by linking EUROMOD and E3ME. The combination of EUROMOD and E3ME would provide a novel micro-funded macroeconomic model: E3ME focuses on the impact of policy or underlying socio-economic trends on indicators such as output, employment, prices and average earnings, EUROMOD focuses on understanding the effect of changes in tax and benefit arrangements on the distribution of incomes. The effects of an extraordinary shock as the one provoked by COVID-19 requires to bring together the two levels of analysis in order to offer a more robust and comprehensive understanding of potential outcomes. The link will be iterative adopting a bottom-up and top-down approach because macroeconomic conditions may affect the average and distribution of individual/household level outcomes.

This research will be held at the Department of Economics, University of Insubria, under the Supervisor's control, Prof. Francesco Figari.

The research will be performed at the Department of Economics located in Via Monte Generoso, 71 - Varese (Italy)
